OVERALL SUMMARY

Asbury Theological Seminary (ATS) continues its journey on the road to flourishing with an overall score of 3.67, at the 21st percentile of the Christian Higher Education Sector. This score represents a 14-point improvement from 2024. Well done! Approximately 35% of employees are fully engaged in the mission, 49% are neutral, and 16% are disengaged. Results suggest reason for considerable optimism regarding future potential engagement, with 80% of employees expressing a motivation to go above and beyond to help ATS succeed and 62% recognizing that ATS is changing for the better. We are confident that with a diligent action plan, informed by prayerfully discerned discovery, the organization will continue progressing toward a healthy workplace status.

HIGHLIGHTS

TRENDS & CHANGES

- Item-level progress was made within every driver of the FLOURISH model.
- The percentage of fully engaged employees improved from 27% to 35% (+17employees), while the percentages of neutral and disengaged employees improved as well.
- 51 of 56 survey items improved, 1 remained unchanged, and only 4 items declined.
- At the driver level, percentile rankings improved for all 8 FLOURISH drivers.
- The most notable improvements were observed in facets of Inspirational Leadership (+.26), statistically, the most powerful driver of engagement.
- ATS regained approximately $272,000 in employee productivity/capacity since 2024.

TOP STRENGTHS

With average ratings from 3 drivers in the healthy range, there are emerging strengths to report. Specifically, among the raw scores, 16 items scored above 4.00 (the beginning of the healthy range) on the 5-point scale, including 5 items scoring at or above 4.25 (the beginning of the flourishing range). Relative to other organizations within the sector, top scoring items included (based on flourishing scores and/or scores in the top half of the sector percentiles):

- Uplifting Growth: caring supervisors (Q16), recognition (Q18), training (Q19), helpful problem-solving supervisors (Q17)
- Healthy Communication: voicing opinions (Q47)
- Fantastic Teams: effective teamwork (Q2), commitment to excellence (Q1)
- Life-Giving Work: knowing expectations (Q8)

Within the FLOURISH model, the Fantastic Teams (4.08), Life-Giving Work (4.13), and Uplifting Growth (4.11) drivers reflected healthy scores. Additional strengths were observed within other drivers, although some of these differed based on demographic groups.

TOP OPPORTUNITIES

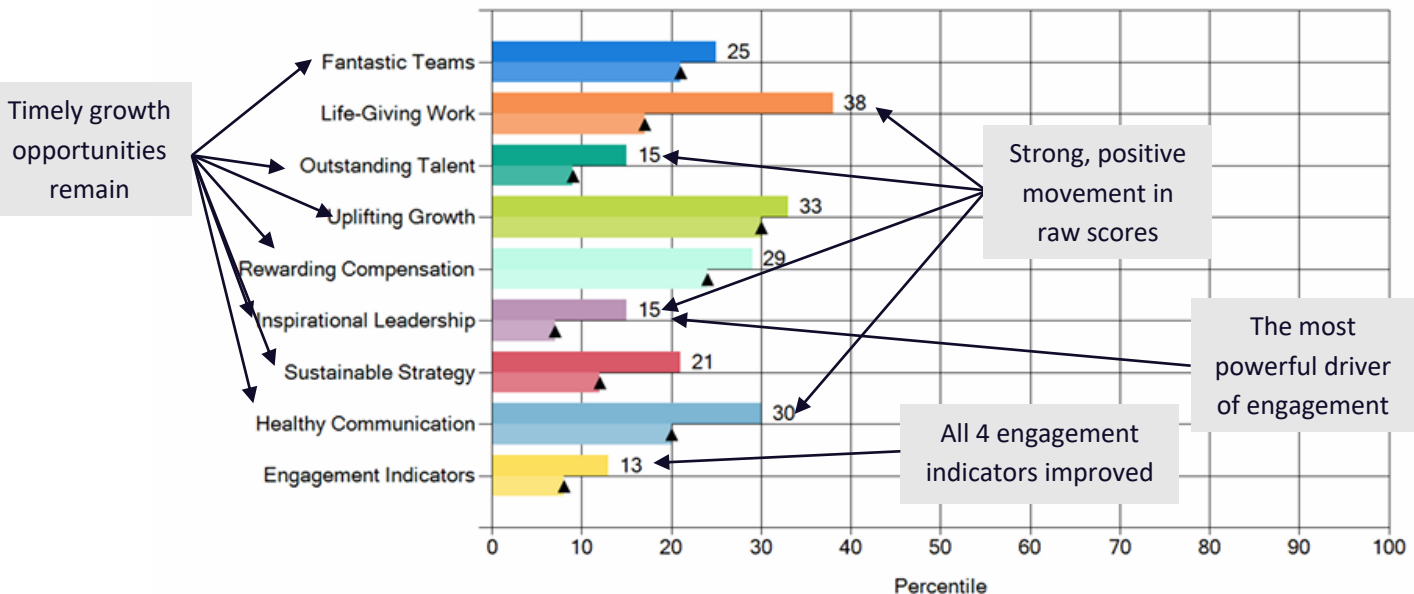

Among the 56 core survey items, 40 of these indicated scores below the healthy range (below 4.00 on the 5-point scale), while 50 items indicated scores below the sector median. With this in mind, the following improvement opportunities may be timely (based on lower raw scores and/or lower percentiles within the sector):

- Fantastic Teams: teamwork across departments (Q3)
- Outstanding Talent: retaining highly capable employees (Q12), rewarding top performers (Q13), promoting highly capable employees (Q14)
- Uplifting Growth: regular progress conversations (Q15)
- Rewarding Compensation: overall pay fairness (Q22), medical/health plan (Q23)
- Inspirational Leadership: job security (Q26), changing for the better (Q27), well-managed organization (Q28), leader-employee trust (Q29), open/honest activities (Q30), modeling fairness/integrity (Q31), exhibiting fruit of the Spirit (Q32), demonstrating compassion (Q33), Christ-first in decision-making (Q35), modeling humility (Q36)
- Sustainable Strategy: effective strategy (Q38), clear goal consensus (Q39), meeting goals (Q42)
- Healthy Communication: valuing diversity (Q43), explaining major decisions (Q44), seeking suggestions (Q45), acting on suggestions (Q46), involving employees in decisions (Q48), innovation encouraged (Q49), maintaining life balance (Q50), accountability maintained (Q51), responding to unethical behavior (Q52)

Additional growth opportunities were observed, although some of these differed by demographic category (such as role or team), as mentioned previously. See Demographic and Team Snapshots reports.
